COLLABORATION BETWEEN WHO AND ISPRM CONTINUES

In accordance with exchanges last year, the WHO Executive Board reviewed the report of the collaboration with the ISPRM in its recent 122nd session. As a result the WHO Board decided to maintain the ISPRM in official relations with the WHO. In making its decision, the WHO Board commended the efforts of the ISPRM in support of the work of WHO. The WHO Board takes this opportunity to convey many thanks to the members of the ISPRM for their continuing interest in working with WHO and hopes that these activities continue to be as fruitful.

We therefore would like to thank Prof. Stucki and Dr. Melvin for their continuous efforts in collaborating with the WHO.

EUROPA MEDICOPHYSICA NAME UPGRADE

Stefano Negrini

I am happy to announce that as of 1 January 2008 Europa Medicophysica (EMP) will upgrade its name from Latin to English, appearing as The European Journal of Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine (Eur J Phys Rehabil Med - EJPRM). The EJPRM has been presented to PubMed/Medline and will substitute Europa Medicophysica (Eura Medicophys - EMP).

The EJPRM will start with Volume 45, following the sequence of EMP volume numeration, and will carry the subtitle "Europa Medicophysica", testifying to its origin, birth, and history. The second title, "Mediterranean Journal of Physical and Rehabilitation Medicine", remains as a distinctive sign recalling the Journal's important role as a bridge between southern Europe and North Africa and the Middle East.

The reasons for the name change are clear: English is now the international language of medicine and the Journal will need to enhance its visibility as a European platform for presenting clinical research in physical and rehabilitation medicine through the Medline database and other information sources. The goal is to increase the Journal's value for its readers and authors, and ultimately their patients. Emphasis on the EJPRM as an internationally recognized clinical journal for rehabilitation professionals is consistent with this aim.

Best regards and...ad majora.

Jianan Li

Wish you all a Happy Chinese New Year and a prosperous PMR in the year of Rat. I would also like to express our gratitude for your support for Beijing, China to hold the World Congress in 2013. We are very busy at the moment to organize an important regional PMR conference in Nanjing. With 120 invited speakers attending the Conference, we are expecting a success for the first conference of this newly established Regional Society. The on-line registration is now going on (www.aocprm2008.com) and the scientific program is on the web.

As the Chairman of this Conference, I wish to encourage our colleagues in the world to join this unique event in history of Asia and Oceania. You may enjoy lectures by the most famous experts in our field, communication with colleagues, exhibition of modern rehabilitation equipment, and also the fascinating historical city and nature wonderland of the richest area of China. You may also have opportunity to learn some Chinese traditional approaches for physical and rehabilitation medicine, including acupuncture, Chinese manipulation and other Chinese methods.

CLINICAL TRIALS COURSE 2008 - DISTANCE-LEARNING CLINICAL RESEARCH TRAINING PROGRAM

(24 WEEKLY LECTURES OF 2 HOURS OF DURATION)

Marta Imamura, MD PhD, Chair, ISPRM Education Committee

One of the main goals of the "World Action Plan for Initial Education in PRM" (WAPIE.PRM) is to facilitate access to research and research activities to the PRM trainees. All ISPRM members can also benefit from the education activities as well. Although our specialty has been shown to be a promising and emerging center for medical research, most of our research ends up not being published or published in journals of low impact factor. In order to reverse this situation, the University Of São Paulo School Of Medicine has partnered with the Scholars in Clinical Sciences Program of Harvard Medical School with the goal of training researchers and physicians to be leaders and top quality scientists. We have recently finalized the agreement with the Scholars in Clinical Science Program / Harvard Medical School in which they will deliver a research program – similar to that used to train Harvard researchers- by professors from Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Public Health, using video conference technology from both universities (Harvard University and University of Sao Paulo) to broadcast this lecture from Boston to Sao Paulo and from São Paulo to the other centers worldwide. This outstanding course will take place from March 13th to October 16th 2008, and will consist of 24 lectures of two hours each. The first lecture will be delivered by Prof. Steven Freedman, MD PhD, associate dean of Translational Medicine at Harvard Medical School. In this program, we will also have other key speakers, such as the academic dean of Harvard School of Public Health, James Ware, and the deputy editor of New England Journal of Medicine.

The Scholars in Clinical Sciences Program was established at Harvard in 2000 to address the critical need for formal training opportunities in clinical research, which is vital to the advancement of scientific knowledge and the development of improved treatments for human disease. The goal of the Scholars in Clinical Sciences Program is to provide superior, coordinated didactic and practical training for individuals interested in clinical trials. The program prepares trainees to be effective leaders of complex research groups, academic departments, academic medical centers, and industrial and managed care groups. This CME course on clinical trials is another example of the emphasis of this program to be a world leader in clinical research training.

Besides the 24-lectures delivered by teleconference, there will be an intensive four-day live course, from October 23 to 26th 2008, delivered by 10 professors from Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Public Health, at the Maksoud Plaza Hotel in São Paulo.

This initiative will certainly contribute towards increasing the scientific research capacity of our specialty, as well as allow our researchers to publish in high quality medical journals.

International Brain
Injury Association

Seventh World Congress on Brain Injury

Held in conjunction with
Congress of the Portuguese Society of PMR
Congresso Nacional da Sociedade Portuguesa de MFR

Jorge Lains, MD, President, IBIA, Portugal

Nathan Zasler, MD, FAAPM&R, FAADEP, DAAPM, CBIT, Chairperson, IBIA, USA

As President and Chairperson of the IBIA Seventh World Congress on Brain Injury in Lisbon, Portugal, we would like to invite the participation of all professionals involved with serving persons with acquired brain injury to this international Congress and meeting of minds. We are very excited about having the meeting in Lisbon which, historically, has been the center of one of the biggest empires of all time with colonies in the Americas, Asia and Africa. Lisbon's sophisticated shopping centers, fine hotels, gastronomy, and culture, combined with the climate will make this a superb destination for our biennial World Congress.

Aside from the wonderful scientific program with over 40 invited world renowned experts in the field of brain injury, we have had an outpouring of interest in the meeting with over 400 scientific submissions from around the world. There will also be a pre-conference, full-day symposium on the state of the art of knowledge regarding mild traumatic brain injury assessment and treatment that will span issues from biomechanics of injury through vocational reentry. The pre-congress on MTBI will be co-sponsored by the International Brain Injury Association and the World Federation of Neurological Rehabilitation. The 7th World Congress of the IBIA will also have a number of excellent and diverse post-conference workshops.

IBIA is also introducing at this World Congress a number of new events including candlelight sessions with experts, among others, and several new awards, including the Henry Stonnington Award for best review article in Brain Injury, IBIA's officially endorsed organizational research journal, and the Jennett & Plum award for clinical achievement in the field of brain injury medicine. We are also planning a number of wonderful social events, as well as touring opportunities to further explore and appreciate the culture of our host country, Portugal.

Since ISPRM is an endorsing organization for the 7th World Congress, its members are entitled to a discount on the registration, equivalent to that of IBIA members. For further information on the meeting, please check our website: www.internationalbrain.org.

We look forward to seeing you in Lisbon!

NEWS & VIEWS – FEBRUARY 2008

COMBINED NATIONAL SOCIETY/INDIVIDUAL ISPRM MEMBERSHIP

Werner Van Cleemputte, ISPRM Executive Director

In the September issue of the N&V, we have pointed out the advantages of National societies in combining national society with individual membership.

In short these advantages are

- Individual membership of the ISPRM for each member of your national society
- Monthly electronic version of the newsletter called News & Views with announcements on the society, its members, views and info on what is happening in the field of PM&R as well as a congress section. This News & Views is sent monthly by email to each of your members.
- Free electronic version of the Journal of Rehabilitation Medicine with access to all publications of the JRM as of 2001
- Reduced fee on the electronic version of Disability and Rehabilitation.
- Certification of membership through an official ISPRM membership card
- Certification of membership through a wall paper certificate
- Reduced registration fees at a large number of international congresses worldwide - all congresses that are endorsed by the ISPRM
- Individual page for each ISPRM individual member on the ISPRM website
- Full access to the “members only” section of the ISPRM website with discussion forums, reporting etc.
- National society membership like paid before is waived for the society.
- Having the Central Office of the ISPRM as direct spokesperson towards the society and intermediate with all countries members of the ISPRM

Apart from the information given in the September issue of the News & Views, a letter has been sent out to all national societies with the same information

As a result a number of national societies are now discussing this issue within their board in detail.

NATIONAL SOCIETIES THAT MADE AN APPLICATION FOR THIS COMBINED MODEL ARE:

- The Italian Society previously already agreed on this combined membership.
- The Australasian Faculty of Rehabilitation
- The Colombian Association of PM&R
- The Cyprus Society

WE ENCOURAGE ALL OTHER NATIONAL SOCIETIES TO EXAMINE THIS COMBINED MODEL IN DETAIL AND CONSIDER THE BENEFITS FOR THEIR INDIVIDUAL MEMBERS AS WELL.
